

Dear Prospective Student,

Thank you for your interest in our Doctor of Medical Qigong certification program.

The principles underlying the teachings at the International College of Medical Qigong (ICMQ) are the Dao (the natural way of the universe), the theory of Yin and Yang, and the relationship of heaven, earth, and man. We hope that in seeking to live through these principles, we can support and inspire our students and patients to discover and live in harmony with their true nature and utilize their talents to maintain balance in their lives.

Medical knowledge exists to alleviate the pains of humanity, whether physical, mental, emotional, or spiritual. While the ICMQ's principle purpose is to enable students to obtain the academic and clinical knowledge to be a successful practitioner, it does not stop there. The curriculum encourages the philosophy that through the healing of oneself one can understand how to heal others.

The emphasis is on the cultivation of oneself and the comprehension of human nature.

We look forward to seeing you.

Respectfully,

Dr. Bernard Shannon, DTCM, DMQ (China)
Executive Director, International College of Medical Qigong
Abbot, Temple of Peace and Virtue

THE INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE OF MEDICAL QIGONG

The International College of Medical Qigong (ICMQ) is open to all health care professionals, students of Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), and those interested in Chinese energetic medicine.

The ICMQ offers a multi-level certification program designed to teach the theory and practical application of Medical Qigong Therapy.

- Medical Qigong Practitioner (MQP) – 200 hours
- Medical Qigong Therapist (MQT) – 500 hours
- Master of Medical Qigong (MMQ) – 1000 hours
- Doctor of Medical Qigong (DMQ) – 2000 hours

ICMQ programs emphasize the analytical/deductive and intuitive approaches to comprehending and utilizing Medical Qigong therapy for cultivation, regulation and clinical application. The experiential aspects of the course are well balanced with a solid theoretical foundation.

Our curriculum has drawn from the knowledge gathered from several of the medical universities, institutes, hospitals, and clinics throughout the People's Republic of China. It is fashioned after the Medical Qigong College at the Hai Dian University of Traditional Chinese Medicine in Beijing, China. The Chinese Ministry of Health honored this curriculum in 2005 as meeting the Chinese standards for academic and clinical instruction, the first time a foreign Medical Qigong curriculum has been approved by the Chinese government (Ministry of Health and Ministry of Education), and its academic standards and clinical protocols have been formally accepted by a Traditional Chinese Medicine University.
